

STUDENT ANNOUNCEMENTS:

NOTE: Announcements intended for both Middle School and High School

Week of January 1, 2012

Welcome back from break!

What a great Holiday Luncheon that was!!

If you brought food in a container and forgot to pick up the container in December, now is the time to take it home. Check in the office.

*ATHLETIC EVENTS THIS WEEK:

Middle School girls basketball starts this week. Get your paperwork done right away.

Tuesday, January 3rd Boys and Girls Basketball away to La Conner

Friday, January 6th Boys and Girls Basketball home

Saturday, January 7th Girls Basketball home

GIRLS LOCKER ROOM HAS BEEN REPAINTED

Note that the girls locker room in the high school has been repainted and is all cleaned up and ready for use. If girls want to write kind things for others to read, let's purchase a white board to hang wherever you want. Or we can purchase a few of them to hang about. But PLEASE do not write on the stalls or walls or other than on white boards.

HIGH SCHOOL classes are changing on January 30th.

We are still accepting sign ups for Tai Chi Chuan

This will be a PE or elective class through OASIS taught by Corey Wiscomb.

No Communication class and no Theater class.

*CELL PHONE POLICY REMINDER (for Middle School too)

Cell phones are not to be used during class time and most of you have been very good about that.

This is a reminder that a cell phone can only be used in a classroom with the teacher's express permission.

This rule applies at any time, before, during or after school, to cell phone use in a classroom. The teacher must actually give you permission to use the phone, or you should not be using it. Teachers are responsible and in charge of their rooms at all times, not just during class time.

SAT IN JANUARY: Juniors, if you intend to take this test, and you should if you plan to apply to 4-year colleges, you can still sign up but you will be charged extra money. Go to collegeboard.com and register. Use the PSAT booklet and your print-out of correct/incorrect answers to study.

SENIORS: Now is the time to fill-out those online FAFSA forms at fafsa.gov if you want to receive any federal or school aid. Remember, you must have a PIN so you can electronically sign your forms. See the counselor if you have questions.

SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITY: Go to theWashBoard.org to set-up a scholarship match for yourself. There is also the opportunity to make a 60 second video about why you need scholarships that can earn you a scholarship. It is definitely worth a look!!

GET READY FOR A LOCK DOWN DRILL

In a lock down, all classroom doors are locked to keep out any intruders. All students and staff remain in their classrooms or other locked spaces and away from windows until the all clear is given by the sheriff's deputies or fire department responders. Since this is for practice, the all clear will probably be given by ASB officers acting as deputies for the sheriff.

When the all clear is given, classes will exit the building as usual and meet on the field. Teachers will take attendance and one student from each class will take the teacher's report to the command post(where the office staff is located).

Buy your 2012 Yearbook now at the best price we can offer!!!

The $50 price is good for the first week of January!!!
Don't miss out on yours. Final day of $55 will be Monday,
January 9th.

For students interested in Career Choices credit 2nd semester:

If you are 16 or older there is credit available for those that want to work for pay or apprentice. 90 hours unpaid which is equal to roughly 5 hours/week or a paid position is 180 hours or about 10 hours/week. This class is a huge plus on a resume and your transcript. It is good to get started on your plan during break or long before the semester starts.

Stop by and see Mrs. Schuh in room 301 for paperwork and registration information.
